on GLP from OECD & Obligations Thereof

DISCUSS, DEBATE, DELIBERATE & HARMONIZE.

On March 3, 2011, India became the third key emerging economy in the world to receive the full adherent status to Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Council Act related to Mutual Acceptance of Data (MAD) in the Assessment of Chemicals in compliance with OECD Principles of Good Laboratory Practices (GLP). India joined a group of 33 developed countries, that are a part of the OECD Mutual Acceptance of Data (MAD), thereby ensuring that the results of non-clinical chemical safety testing done in laboratories certified by the National GLP Compliance Monitoring Authority, Department of Science and Technology, Government of India will now be accepted by all other OECD member and adherent countries.

To chart the future course of action, an interactive meet is being organized by National GLP Compliance Monitoring Authority, Department of Science and Technology on 5th July, 2011. This meet will present an opportunity to deliberate on the challenges of harmonizing policies in all sectors to include Pharmaceuticals, Agrochemicals, Industrial chemicals and Biotechnology products. The outcome would be the road map for harmonization of GLP within the regulatory systems in the country to earn credibility on the international front and also paving a path for Legislation on GLP in consultation with Industry, Regulatory bodies, concerned Ministries & Departments of the Government of India. This will help to ensure high quality and reliable test data related to the safety of chemicals in the country.
